Why Send Out of Town for Your Printing

When you can have first-class work done right here, by first-class union printers.

The business man who sends out of town for his printing injures his own business as well as that of others. While on the other hand the man who patronizes home institutions increases the town's pay roll, and thereby builds up his business.

The printers and book binders in the cities of surrounding states do not come here to spend their money.

MY CREED.

Don't brood
On things that won't do any good;
Vexing his head
Till he's near dead
'Bout things that don't 'mount to a damn
Has landed many a man in a barred cell
Till he got well.

No man's on the shelf
Unless he lands there himself;
If things look blue
And you're in a stew,
Look around,
Buckle down,
And prove you're the grit;
That you're it
With a capital I.
The man who won't try—
Cries when he's jabbed in the eye—
Is good as done for,
Geta no run for
His money.
But the man with the go
Most time gets a show
For his white alley.

There's many a guy
Who's said "A has-been am I"
And given up hope
When he had more rope
Than he figgered;
Don't say you're "jiggered"
Until ev'ry hand's played
And you're under the sod laid;
Then if you must go,
Ain't no more show—
Go like a sport.
—Edward N. Buck.

CANADA WANTS MAINE.

If the Daily Guardian, a newspaper of Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, has its way, the state of Maine will soon be annexed to Canada. It says in a recent article: "A glance at the map is sufficient to show that the state of Maine belongs geographically to Canada rather than to the United States."

This paper points out that Maine sticks up from the main body of the United States like a sore thumb, and is right in the way of commerce coming from Canada to the Atlantic. The union of this state with Canada has "already been too long delayed," it says. It adds that, of course, Maine could not go over to Canada without the consent of her own people and of the United States—which is not likely to be given yet a while.

NEVADA BOY HAS CHANCE ENTER NAVY

Hon. F. G. Newlands has requested the University of Nevada to select, by competitive examination, one principal and six alternate candidates for the naval academy at Annapolis.

The applicants must be bona fide residents of the state of Nevada for at least two years, and between 16 and 20 years of age. They must be physically well built and have a fine constitution. Any candidate that cannot pass the physical examination has a very small chance of passing the mental examination.

All candidates will be examined mentally in punctuation, grammar, spelling, arithmetic, geography, United States history, world's history, algebra, through quadratic equations, and in five books in geometry.

The examination will be held at the university February 23, 24, 1911, and the examination of the successful applicants will be held under the auspices of the civil service commission in Reno and Carson on the third Tuesday in April.

The course covers six years, four at Annapolis and two at sea, and a midshipman is paid $600 a year commencing at the date of his admission.

All applicants are requested to send their names to the University of Nevada, from whom they will receive full particulars and sample example questions by return mail.

NEVADA RAISING CELERY.

The celery raised by O. J. Vannoy is becoming famous. This week he brought a few bunches to the editor of the Eagle that measured 27 inches in length and as sweet and brittle as we ever tasted.

During the holidays Mr. Vannoy sent a shipment of his celery to Sacramento people and they wrote to him in glowing terms of the fine quality of his product. The same stories come, not only from California and various parts of Nevada, but from Oregon as well.

There seems to be no doubt, judging from the results attained by Mr. Vannoy, that Carson Sink could supply the entire state of Nevada with a finer quality of celery than can be imported from California or Utah.

The climate at this altitude seems to be ideal for the production of celery. The whiteness, the crispness and flavor are certainly unsurpassed.—Churchill Eagle.

ANOTHER STRIKE AT JARBIDGE.

Theodore Parks, who is acting as superintendent of the St. Joe, Good Luck, Jarbidge, Wonder and Free Gold Mining companies, reports that within the past week the richest strike of the camp has been made on the Paviak, samples having been taken which assayed as high as $4,000 per ton. This has always been admitted to be one of the best properties in the Jarbidge district, and this strike may be taken as an indication of what may be expected of other outfits as development work goes on. The strike was made not 500 feet from the mill on the 4-M lease, and the ore will be of very easy access to the plant, work on which is progressing very nicely, and it is estimated will be in full operation by March 1.

BIG SNOW SHOES AND THE MAIL

Since the heavy snow has decorated the hills in this portion of Nevada the mail to Glenbrook, is being taken to the summer resort via snow shoes. Up to the last week it has been possible to drive to Glenbrook without encountering any snow. Even the stage driver has been doing his stunt in shirt sleeves.

The snow-shoes route has been in vogue over the summit for a number of years, but Ed Hadsell states that there is more snow this storm than he has experienced in nearly twenty years.

Between ten and twelve feet of snow reposes on the summit, four feet at the foot of the grade and about as much as Glenbrook. There will be no water shortage the coming summer in this section of Nevada.—Carson Appeal.

With Goldfield turning out $1,000,000 in gold bullion a month and Tonopah producing $8,500,000 annually, it looks like there must have been something real in those Nevada booms.—Los Angeles Herald.
